

Clip 'n climb: Climbing Reinvented

The story begins with love at first sight following a visit to the Gatineau Clip 'n climb, a New-Zealand company who developed develop a brand new category of action entertainment that revolutionised indoor climbing. The original founders, John Targett and Tim Wethey, combined their backgrounds in the amusement industry and climbing wall design, which turned a niche sporting activity of indoor climbing into an exciting and attractive mainstream recreational activity.

Upon seeing Clip 'n climb, Isabelle Landry-Larue and Daniel Mongrain realized it was the kind of activity that was missing in the greater Montreal area and decided that Centropolis, right in the heart of Laval's activity pole, was the strategically the right fit. Marc-André Roy, a climbing expert, was then assigned to the operations. This incredible management team was able to gather a great team to offer this unique experience to all those wanting to take-up a new challenge.

There is no minimum age to climb and each wall is created with different levels of difficulty so climbers can use their physical and strategic skills at their own pace.

So what are you waiting for? Challenge yourself, challenge your friends with a unique climbing experience that helps develop confidence and encourages interaction between teammates at Clip 'n climb.
