

50 Years in the Making

For 50 years, Kanuk has designed and handcrafted winter coats in their workshop located in the heart of Montreal. Their unique design is inspired by the harsh climate in which they are made. Thanks to the impeccable quality and durability of their garments, the styles of yesterday rub shoulders with those of today while harmonizing with the places where they were created.

Just as they did in the past, Kanuk's designers and artisans continue to be inspired by the climate in which they live to design outerwear that protects against the most inclement weather. Each product is designed to serve a specific purpose, without skimping on style. Every resource is deployed to find the best performing materials, from yarn to insulation, and rigorous quality control is applied to each of their coats. Kanuk products are known for their quality and durability because no detail is left to chance.

Today more than ever, Kanuk firmly believes that outerwear must be designed in the climate it will be worn. While their style has evolved over the years, our commitment to protecting you from the elements never wavers.

Kanuk will continue to create clothing that meets the very real challenges of our times and constantly innovate to do what they do best: to help you protect yourself.
