Designed for the Fearless – The dreamers

At Dolce Vita the message is bigger than shoes. It's about standing with their community, supporting underrepresented voices, and responsibly running a company that they can be proud of with every step.

Founded in 2001 on New York City's Lower East Side, each Dolce Vita collection is designed for the fearless -the dreamers, the tastemakers and the confident individuals who inspire them.

Dolce Vita pledges to grow and support diversity and inclusivity, to honor and support women in all ways and to become more sustainable and socially responsible. They believe in designing more than shoes, they're here to design a better future.

Dolce Vita is looking to open 5-10 strategically placed retail stores across Canada in the next 3-5 years. These small square foot retail stores will enable Canadian consumers to purchase design-driven, quality products at an attainable price point.
